

A Fiddling With Fate Celebration!

The 10th Chloe Ellefson Mystery, Fiddling With Fate, begins and ends in Chloe's hometown of Stoughton, Wisconsin. And the story includes a major milestone for Chloe and Roelke!

In celebration, and in honor of the wonderful readers who've made it all possible, I've partnered with Stoughton's Sons of Norway-Mandt Lodge, with help from the Stoughton Historical Society, to create a unique event.

Activities will include:

- A visit to the Stoughton Historical Museum;
- Folk art demonstrations;
- Hardanger Fiddle music;
- Dinner of baked cod, potatoes, hot vegetable, cucumber salad, and a special Norwegian dessert
- A richly illustrated program about the special people, artifacts and historic sites that I featured in Fiddling With Fate. Books will be available for sale and signing.

Time & Date: 3:00 PM to 7:30 PM, Saturday, October 26, 2019.

Price & Deadline: $20.00 per person. Space is limited; pre-registration is required. A completed registration form with payment must be received by October 15, 2019.

Accessibility: The Mandt Lodge is handicapped-accessible; the Stoughton Historical Museum is not. Participants who cannot manage the steps into the Museum may instead visit Livsreise, a Norwegian museum and heritage center that is accessible. The lodge and the two museums are closely clustered together.

Questions? Email them to me at kathleen@kathleenernst.com

I hope you'll join Mr. Ernst and me as we explore locations featured in the book, learn about Chloe's heritage, indulge in some fine food, and have fun!

Regards,

Kathleen
